Coming in 2014
IMPORTANT CHANGES TO ABIM'S MOC PROGRAM

What's Changing?

In January 2014, ABIM will introduce changes to its MOC program. For all ABIM Board Certified physicians, ABIM and ABMS will begin reporting whether you are "Meeting MOC Requirements." To meet MOC requirements, you will need to:

- Complete an MOC activity to earn ABIM MOC points between January 2014 and December 2015 (in two years and every two years thereafter).

- Earn 100 ABIM MOC points and complete a patient survey and a patient safety module by December 2018 (in five years and every five years thereafter).

What Does This Mean For You?

Assuming your license is in good standing and your certification is current, you will continue to be certified for the length of your current certifications.

- If you are currently enrolled in MOC and your certification is valid, you will not need to do anything in January 2014. Continue participating and earning MOC points as you have been. You'll be "Meeting MOC Requirements" in January and you will not owe any additional fees.

- If you are not currently enrolled in MOC and your certification is valid, you'll be "Meeting MOC Requirements" in January 2014. However, you will need to activate your MOC program by March 31, 2014 to be reported as "Meeting MOC Requirements." At that time, you will have the option of paying an annual fee or pre-paying for 10 years.

The points you earn beginning in January 2014 will continue to be applied to all certifications you are maintaining. You will be able to track your progress with a new, personalized ABIM Physician Portal that will guide you in what you need to do and when.

Questions?

You can visit moc2014.abim.org to help answer any questions you may have about the new MOC requirements. ABIM will send additional information to all ABIM Board Certified physicians this summer.

Coming in 2014: Important Changes to ABIM's MOC Program moc2014.abim.org

E162B-03-2013